House Bill 42 requires insurance providers, not patients, to reimburse Advanced Practice Pharmacists for clinical services that are provided as they would be reimbursed to other healthcare providers for the same service.

Numerous studies reveal that every $1 invested in clinical services provided by pharmacists yields reductions in overall healthcare costs of $4. (J Manag Care Spec Pharm 2018;24:165-72. Pharmacotherapy 2008;28:285e-323e)
Supporting House Bill 42 benefits underserved communities throughout New Mexico and the health care teams that serve them.

“I can’t imagine our busy outpatient clinic running without having pharmacist clinicians.”
- Jeremy Snyder, Physician
All of the care pictured on this card was provided by UNM student pharmacists since the start of the 2020 legislative session. These are New Mexico’s future advanced practice pharmacists.
New Mexico’s future advanced practice pharmacists appreciate your consideration of the Pharmaceutical Service Reimbursement Parity (House Bill 42).
